Experience

Jeff is a highly-accomplished Manager with over 19 years of experience, proven leadership skills and extensive expertise in contract management and healthcare environmental services, planning and implementing proactive procedures, problem solving, accelerating growth through innovative revenue-generating initiatives, and competitive pricing modules.

He has demonstrated ability to create systems that help ensure deadlines are met and targets are achieved or exceeded. His core strengths – organized planning and implementing, logistics and operations, effective integration skills, solid leadership capabilities with a passion for training, and a great ability to motivate for performance – position him for success and quality outcomes. He has extensive knowledge in all aspects of environmental service, linen and laundry service management, including the management of daily operations, proposal and contract negotiations. Jeff has experience conducting operational reviews, assessing labor and non-labor needs, making appropriate recommendations, and creating implementation plans.
