Experience

David Simon's personal mission is to apply his drive, leadership expertise, and personal story to build a culinary service culture within world-class health care organizations that will have a positive and meaningful impact on others. David has over 45 years of experience in the hospitality industry. After 17 successful years in the restaurant business, David transitioned into healthcare foodservice, managing large, high-profile institutions, community hospitals, and long-term care facilities.

David recently relocated to the Phoenix area from Houston where he managed several flagship institutions with the Memorial Hermann Health System and Baylor St. Luke's Medical Center. At the Red Duke Texas Trauma Institute, he and his staff served over 4 million meals per year.
